Welcome to the 2014 GLBT Yellow Pages & Wedding Resource Guide

Congratulations, Minnesota!

It was a victory that was a long time coming, but one that this publication has fought for since 1995: Marriage equality is the law in Minnesota. To accentuate this shift in our lives, Lavender has made it easier to find wedding-specific resources in our popular GLBT Yellow Pages by placing them in a special section as a Wedding Resource Guide.

What's happening in publishing in terms of resources and directories? The Yellow Pages is still the go-to resource for a niche community like ours. Who wants your business? The advertisers in the GLBT Yellow Pages. You can find it in print on the stands and keep it at home or in your car for whenever you need to know who to call, what to click, or where to go. If you get Lavender in your Newsstand on iPhone or iPad, you've got a clickable resource full of links and numbers that can connect you to what you want in a matter of moments. Sitting at your laptop or desktop, all of it is available in an instant. Print lives on, but so do our electronic devices—and all within your Lavender Yellow Pages.

Look to us this next year to continue to give you relevant content for your lives. We will bring you attractive events and engaging opportunities. Use our resources to get yourselves connected to both what you want and what you need. We are here for this community, whether electronically, in person, or on stands.

Last year, I titled this letter Tempora mutantur nos et Mutamur in illis: Times change and we change with the times. Whether they be laws or technology, we move forward. And we're glad you're with us for another year.

At the U of M we think it's time to end HIV infection.

Forever.

Decades ago, clinical trials opened
new doors for people battling HIV & AIDS.
Today, they may be key to eradicating HIV infection forever.

The University of Minnesota recently launched new HIV clinical studies.
But to be successful, we need your help.

You can make a difference if you're:

Diagnosed HIV+

18 years or older

Interested in the clinical trials process

We're forging new paths in the fight against HIV & AIDS.

Will you join us?

Pride of Ownership

There is nothing quite like the solid feel of a Mercedes-Benz, the ease of handling, the responsiveness and the beauty. And there is nothing like being treated like royalty when you are an owner of that Mercedes from Sears Imported Autos.

Pride of Ownership. It extends well beyond dollars and cents as any of our customers will tell you. Discover the difference at Sears.

Ameriprise Financial

Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc. Member FINRA and SIPC. The FIVE STAR Wealth Manager Program ("Program") research was conducted May – July 2012. All identified broker dealers, RIA firms and FINRA-registered representatives in the area were contacted to gather wealth manager nominations. Fewer than seven percent of wealth managers in the area receive the recognition. The quality of client service provided by nominated wealth managers was evaluated using ten objective criteria, but results may not represent a particular client experience. Not all wealth managers use discretionary control to manage clients' assets. Five Star Professional, manages the Program, but does not endorse listed wealth managers. Investors should conduct their own evaluation of a financial professional as working with a financial advisor is not a guarantee of future financial success. A photograph of two men sitting on a light-colored sofa in a bright room with large windows. The man on the left, who is bald and wearing a light grey button-down shirt, is holding a tablet and looking at it. The man on the right, with dark hair and wearing a pink button-down shirt, is leaning over his shoulder, holding a dark book and looking at the tablet. A colorful patterned pillow is on the sofa to the right.

FARGO

ADVISORS

Changing laws changed their lives

The recent Supreme Court ruling on the Defense of Marriage Act led Greg and Peter to take a serious look at their investment planning needs. The rapidly changing legal landscape meant it was crucial that they worked with someone who was knowledgeable, so they turned to Wells Fargo Advisors. Our Financial Advisors who have the Accredited Domestic Partnership AdvisorSM (ADPA[®]) designation are well-versed on the current set of challenges, so Greg and Peter walked away with a solid plan and confidence in the future.

Let's talk about your long-term investment planning needs. Because when people talk, great things happen. To find one of our ADPA-certified Financial Advisors in your area, visit wellsfargoadvisors.com/adpa today.

Together we'll go far

Wells Fargo Advisors is the trade name used by two separate registered broker-dealers: Wells Fargo Advisors, LLC, and Wells Fargo Advisors Financial Network, LLC. Members SIPC, non-bank affiliates of Wells Fargo & Company. Accredited Domestic Partnership AdvisorSM and ADPASM are service marks of the College for Financial Planning[®]. © 2013 Wells Fargo Advisors, LLC, Member SIPC. All rights reserved.

The lake. The cliffs. The proximity. Just drive two-and-a-half hours, and you're there! Be sure to visit the Lakewalk, Glensheen, Bellisio's, and the Aquarium. Don't miss the Duluth-Superior GLBT Pride Festival held each Labor Day weekend.

Ask anyone who's been here, and they'll tell you nothing's like a visit to Duluth. Scenic wonder, natural beauty, and an all-around great place.

As Duluth has transformed itself into a tourism destination that draws more than 3.5 million visitors annually, more GLBTs than ever are picking the Twin Ports for their Midwestern getaway.

The Guthrie serves as a vital artistic resource for the people of Minnesota and the region. Its primary task is to celebrate, through theatrical performances, the common humanity binding us all together. The theater is devoted to the traditional classical repertoire that has sustained it since its foundation, and to the exploration of new works from diverse cultures and traditions. It aspires to the highest levels of artistic achievement and to reaching the widest possible audience with its work. The Guthrie sees itself as a leader in American theater, with both a national and international reputation.

Built and operated as the Pantages Theatre in 1916, it housed vaudeville performances during the 1910s and 1920s. It operated as the RKO Pan in 1946, when it started featuring movies. In 1961, it became the Mann Theatre, where it continued to show movies, including the sneak-preview screenings of The Sound of Music (which played for nearly two years) and West Side Story. In 2002, the theater reopened to offer off-Broadway shows and music concerts. Pantages Theatre opens at 5 PM or two hours prior to showtime for matinees, day of show only.

Chanhassen Dinner Theatres's founders, Herb and Carol Bloomberg, designed and constructed their 90,000 square foot entertainment complex where once stood a cornfield, some distance out of the metropolitan area. Chanhassen is one of the few theatres in the Twin Cities to have facilities on site to create productions from scratch. From the initial concepts of scenic design down to the production of original costume designs—everything is done on Chanhassen property.

THEATRE

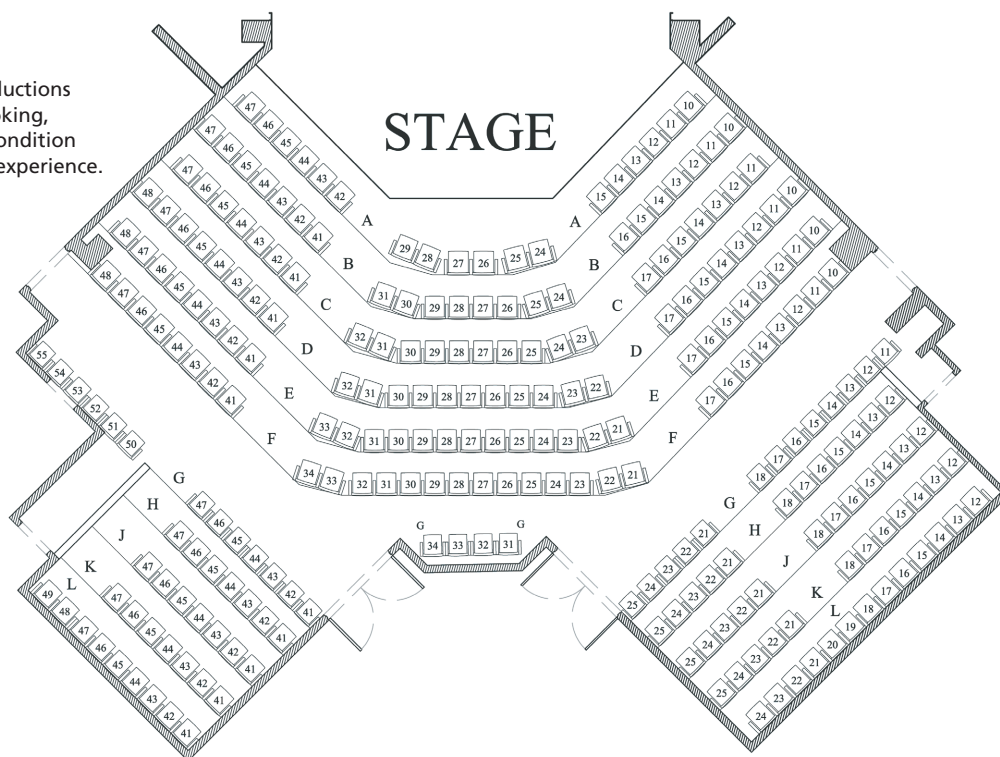

Mixed Blood Theatre, founded in 1976 by Artistic Director Jack Reuler, is dedicated to the spirit of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s dream. Mixed Blood uses theater as a vehicle for artistry, entertainment, education, and social change. The professional, multiracial company promotes cultural pluralism, individual equality, and artistic excellence in its mainstage season; custom productions for corporations, government agencies, and educational institutions; and culturally specific touring shows that reach a quarter-million young people each year. It's a general admission house (200 seats).

Bloomington Civic Theatre finally has a permanent home. It was founded in 1955 by a group of volunteers who believed a theater group would be a desirable addition to the culture for the new city of Bloomington. One of their earliest dreams was to have a space for rehearsals, and set construction, and a functional stage for performances. The City of Bloomington made that dream a reality with the opening of Bloomington Center for the Arts in 2003. Before then, Bloomington Civic Theatre performed on school and college stages when available. Sets and costumes were built and sewn in homes, garages, empty storefronts, and barns. The Bloomington Recreation Department advanced the fledgling group $30 to begin their creative endeavor. It performed The Curious Savage at the old Bloomington High School on 98th and Penn Avenue South on June 24 and 25, 1955. For the first four years, it produced straight dramas only, and in 1960, presented its first musical, Guys and Dolls which critics labeled "a miracle in Bloomington". For more than 50 years, performers and technicians have come from all over the metro area to audition and volunteer for productions. Bloomington Civic Theatre currently produces four musicals a season—providing an amazing venue for amateur performers, and entertaining, high-quality, and reasonably priced shows for the theater-going public.

Park Square is a mid-sized professional theatre producing a perfect balance of familiar favorites and fresh new stories in an intimate 340-seat theater. Each season includes six subscription productions and two full productions created especially for young audiences. Founded in 1974 in Lowertown's Park Square Court Building, the Theatre relocated in 1995 to its current home in the Seventh Place Theatre of the Historic Hamm Building in Downtown Saint Paul. The Theatre holds the third-largest subscriber base of any theater in the Twin Cities, and the largest overall audience for a theater of its type. Among its peers, Park Square offers the most extensively developed education program, with in-depth services reaching more than 25,000 area students annually.

Minnesota
Orchestra

Orchestra Hall is the home of the Minnesota Orchestra. On the Nicollet Mall and adjacent to a beautiful public plaza, it is an architectural landmark in Downtown Minneapolis. The Hall—with its open glass structure and whimsical blue tubes—was designed to offer concert-goers a warm, welcoming ambience and acoustical perfection. The Orchestra Hall lobby opens up to Peavey Plaza, a city-owned park that features angular waterfalls and a beautiful reflecting pool. Orchestra Hall becomes a community focal point in the summer, when the Orchestra's summer music festival spills outdoors onto the Plaza. During the winter, Peavey Plaza is home to a glittering ice skating rink and an ideal vantage point from which to watch the TCF Holidazzle Parade in December.

Light Rail - The Hiawatha Line and Northstar Commuter Rail

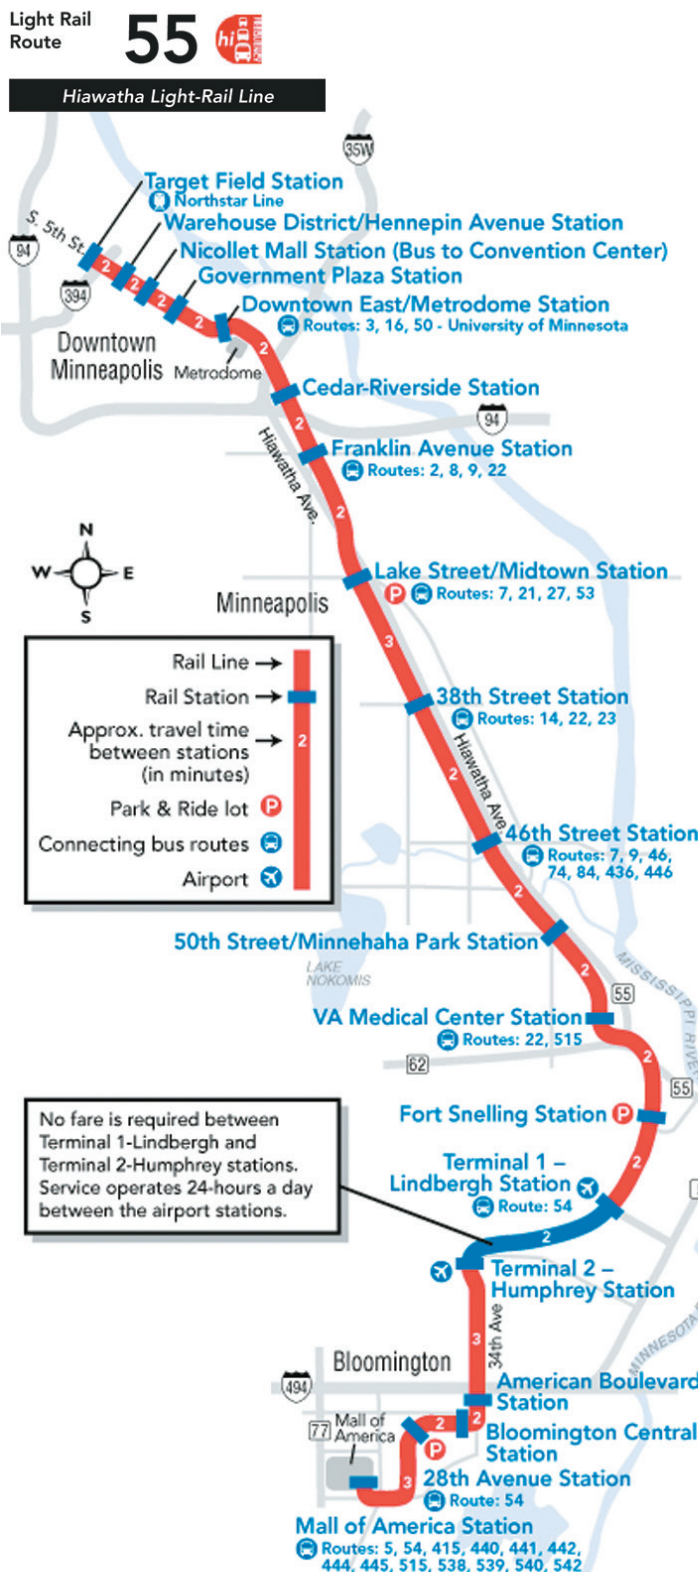

The Hiawatha Line

Light rail transit is the modern version of the street-cars that operated in Minneapolis until the mid-1950s. LRT is an important part of a transit system because of its ability to transport high numbers of commuters comfortably, efficiently, and quietly. LRT trains can operate as single cars, or can be combined into two- and three-car trains. LRT trains are clean and quiet because they are electrically powered by overhead lines. Station designs allow access by pedestrians, drop-off, reconfigured bus connections, and park-and-ride.

The Hiawatha Light Rail Transit (LRT) route is the first LRT line planned for the Twin Cities metropolitan area. The 12-mile route runs along Hiawatha Avenue and along 5th St. in Downtown Minneapolis. The line includes 17 stations, and links Downtown Minneapolis, the Airport, and the Mall of America. These locations are three of the largest economic and job centers in the region. There are a total of four stations in Downtown Minneapolis and six stations in Minneapolis neighborhoods. Visit www.metrotransit.org/rail.

Northstar Commuter Rail

After a dozen years of hard work, Northstar Commuter Rail is the state's first commuter rail line operated by Metro Transit. For the most current information, visit www.metrotransit.org.
